Computing

Computing planning is based on the 'Teach Computing' an educational programme provided by the National Centre for Computing Education (funded by the DfE). It provides high-quality, well-resourced and routinely updated resources to deliver an in-depth and relevant curriculum for Primary pupils. The curriculum supports messages and practical means to keep children safe online. This is embedded in lessons throughout each year group ensuring children are ready for a connected world.